Location:

From the salt flats in the southeast of the island to the Golden Bay, hardly any other municipality on Mallorca can boast as many coves as Santanyi. On 35 kilometres of coastline, illustrious coastal communities and bathing bays line up, such as Cala d'Or, Cala Gran, Cala Esmeralda, Cala Figuera, Cala Llombards, the nature reserve Cala Mondragó and the fishing village Porto Petro. Besides tourism and agriculture, the extraction of Santanyi stone is a profitable industry. This limestone is characterised by its hardness and resistance to pressure. Its original light colour takes on yellow-brown tones with time.

The charming town of Santanyi is located in the extreme southeast of Mallorca. It is the administrative centre of the municipality of Santanyi and is 56 kilometres from the capital, Palma. In the heart of Santanyi you will find the Plaça Major with the impressive 18th century church of Sant Andreu. It houses a famous baroque organ. Next to it, in the same complex of buildings, is the 14th century parish church Capella del Roser ("Rosary Chapel"). The town hall, built in 1902, is also located in Plaça Major.
